

‘THE NAURU 19 AND THE IMPORTANCE OF PRO BONO’

Felicity Graham is a barrister at Black Chambers based in Sydney. She practises in Australia and overseas. Her practice focuses on public law and human rights litigation, predominantly criminal law, intentional torts and migration matters. As a solicitor she worked at the Aboriginal Legal Service (NSW/ACT) Ltd including as trial advocate and principal legal officer of the western region in NSW. Felicity is also a member of the NSW sentencing council.

